SUMMARY

---

As a vocational high school graduate in Software Engineering, I'm passionate about programming and UI/UX design. With proficiency in languages like Python, Java, and HTML/CSS, I develop effective software solutions. I blend aesthetic appeal with functionality to create engaging user experiences. Eager to learn and contribute in dynamic environments, I believe my skills and interests can add significant value.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Technician Area Network, Telkom Indonesia

Jun 2020 - Jan 2021

- installation of hardware and software required to build and maintain telecommunications networks. This includes cabling, routers, switches, and other network devices
- will be responsible for monitoring network performance on an ongoing basis, using monitoring and analysis tools to identify potential problems or failures in the network. Preventive steps can be taken to address problems before they affect service.
- As a network professional, you may also be responsible for training and developing the skills of a more junior engineering team.
- perform routine maintenance and repair of hardware and software on the network, including device upgrades and application of security patches.
